CATHEDRAL HIGH SCHOOL

Hungrily, eagerly,
searching
in some new quest
for knowledge

71

Volume X

Cathedral High School
Springfield, Massachusetts

Together,
crowded and pushing,
breathing the same air,
tasting the same excitement, the crowd listened attentively digesting every word said.

No nuance fell on hard ground but rather was absorbed like a sponge
until there was not enough left to go around
for everybody.

There were disappointments like

the inflexibility
or the lack of personal response — or just the utter incapability of comprehending through communication

that didn't quite communicate what you wanted it to.

There were times

when there was just a building —
the mere shell
of concrete, steel, and glass, devoid of personages

like in the middle of a cold, wet, drizzly day, at five o'clock in the evening,
when the halls resounded with emptiness
and even the classrooms had no meaning.

But then
the times
when joy overtook sorrow, indecision, and frustration,
and outdistanced them
to the finish line
made the goal worth the while.

Who can begin to describe what it feels like to run the race overtaking every foe, and succeeding —
against every odd!

And who can relate the experience of finally understanding what it was all about
after a clash of wits,
or a befuddling lesson?

The building itself, too though,
was the place
encouraging
curiousness
and awareness through which
Men could seek the truth.
And it was these times
that the halls
radiated learning;

and the students —
searching for wisdom
with that insatiable
desire to know
what is man?

that Cathedral derived
and justified
its existence.

And here men could question
without fear:
what justifies war?
the present wars —
or any war?
And who are to say
that you are created equal,
but I am just a little more equal?

Still yet, however,
there is hunger in the world;
people are robbed, raped, and murdered;
many questions go unanswered; and we sit, smugly content, in our middle-class parochialism,
shocked and alarmed,
protesting, but not really doing very much.

The legacy of America

her glory and freedom and opportunity — we learned to love and respect and treasure, and even accept

her little defects and inequities because of man's thoughtlessness and selfishness.

But as we finish here and move on we do not really begin anew.

There will still be inequities and defects robberies and murders, and wars and strife.

The process of education is a continuing one
where man strives to understand himself —
his shortcomings and failures, even his successes and advancements.

It is through education that man learns his purpose as a fully-developed mature, warm person
relating to others,
and the answer to the question

Who am I?

In 1962, Sister Rose Murray started the first yearbook
at Cathedral
and headed the staff as advisor for eight years.
She began Pantherpix
as a memory book for Seniors and it gradually evolved into an important publication under her direction.
But she was transferred in 1969 and appointed principal in another school.
And now as the yearbook changes
and expands,
we wish to thank Sister Rose in a special way for everything she did
to make the yearbook a success.
We dedicate this tenth volume to her
in recognition of her work for the yearbook and Cathedral.

Model Senate debates federal welfare reform

1

1 Government students Paul Landry, Michael Ashe, and Marianne Bloniarz utilize the facilities in the Sr. Mary McElroy Memorial resource center. 2 Fr. Peter Loughran, chaplain of the Senate, explains rules and procedures to participating students. 3 Junior James Callaghan listens intently to discussion of the bill during a Democratic caucus. 4 Senators take a break from committee discussion in room 343. 5 Minority Whip Michael Gallagher and section leader Fred Perlak discuss the Republican-sponsored welfare bill. 6 Democrats plan party strategy in an effort to defeat Republican bill.

World Problems, an elective open to all but freshmen, was added to the history curriculum this year.

Classes taught by Sr. Veronica Brown explored such problems as population, pollution, and world government, with the course evolving as one topic led to another.

A two-year American history course is available to those who wish a study of greater depth than would be possible in one year.

Four sociology classes featured field trips to institutions for the retarded and underprivileged, as well as speakers involved with law enforcement and social work. The annual Model Senate, held on March 11, centered on a welfare bill.

English department offers electives

In addition to Honors and Advanced Placement English, electives were offered to all seniors this year.

Course offerings included Shakespearean Drama — Contemporary Lit; American and British Novels — Poetry; and Contemporary Lit — Language.

Sophomore Honors classes began a study of Humanities.

Two journalism classes composed mostly of sophomores train students for work on the Chronicle.

In the coming year electives will be available to juniors also.

1 As a project of the study of Romeo and Juliet Michael Shepard explains the Glove Theater model which he constructed. 2 Jury deliberates in Twelve Angry Men. Front row: John Goodwin, Glenn Ligenza, Dan Desplaines, Robert Morin, Michael Davis, John Nay; back row: Benny Giancola, Bob Fecowicz, Neil Garvey, Marco Gutwaks, Bob Andrews, Brian Burke. 3 Seniors Rich Agin, John Tetreault, Steve Bodolay, and Elaine Footit weigh the merits of an unseen speaker in contemporary lit class. 4 In a scene from Saroyan's Coming Through the Rye Jo-Ann Paro lectures Jeff Martini. 5 Junior students Loreen Ayotte, Mary Lynn Haley, and Jeff Bernardi labor at written expression.

Practical, fine arts help develop

A three year art course is available which includes such techniques as silk screening, pastels, water color, and oils. Sr. Eleanor Gahan introduces students to wire and paper sculpture, ceramics, and all forms of creative art. The art department serves by producing posters, banners, and scenery for activities.

CHS offers two courses in technical drawing. A sequential course starts with basics, continues with sheet metal work and pattern development, and concludes with fundamentals of engineering.

A second course is given with basic technical drawing for juniors, who follow with advanced work in engineering graphics using a college text in senior year.

1 Art II student, Marthe Hess adds color to a still life picture. 2 Working on the Kennedy Memorial mosaic, Gail Bishop tediously fits a small piece of tile into the overall pattern. 3 In basic technical drawing, Richard Leonard sketches a three-view orthographic projection. 4 Senior Paul Groomes works out a problem in fundamentals of engineering.

students' useful, creative skills

The course deals with nutrition, table setting, and all aspects of homemaking.

Instruction in sewing includes textiles, interior decorating, and grooming. Sr. Patricia Smith's classes planned a fashion show as part of Fine Arts Night. Both sections held open house before scheduling to enable interested girls to make informed decisions for the coming year.

1 Freshman girls learn course requirements while seeing practical advantages of the cooking department at the home ec open house. 2 After choosing her pattern and material, Pat Cawley becomes familiar with machine stitching. 3 Following pattern instructions, Michelle Marotte proceeds to pin darts. 4 Home ec students Margaret O'Sullivan, Carol Doyle, and Jean Borland work with Sr. Patricia Smith at basic operations of cutting, stitching, and pressing.

Science

Department adds to curriculum

This year the science department initiated a new course entitled physiology which prepared students for careers in nursing or related fields, such as physical therapy, x-ray, surgical, and medical technology.

Speakers addressed the two physiology classes, and the students went on field trips to Dental Career Day at STCC, the Nursing Fair, and the medical technology lab at Mercy Hospital.

In the state prize math exam this year, the top seven students were Mike Robinson, who placed first in Cathedral, Richard McCarthy, Katie Pooler, Michael Moriarty, Jim Demers, Dave Walsh, and Bill Lonergan.

Of these seven, Katie Pooler, Dave Walsh, and Bill Lonergan are juniors.

Modern language

Many innovations took place in the language department.

German students progressed toward individualized instruction, learning at their own pace in small groups. The Spanish department experimented with team teaching.

Sister Catherine Joseph and Mrs. Horber, a Cuban native, taught Spanish history and pronunciation, respectively.

French offered a course in French four this year, and showed filmstrips on French history, giving students a better understanding and background of France.

Business students give service

The business department provides basic skills and experience needed to enter the business community.

Courses are offered in typing, stenography, accounting, data processing, economics and office practice. Business students are responsible for the typing and mimeographing of the daily bulletin.

Data processing students prepare the absentee lists, report cards, and schedules. Four listing machines and six calculators, new this year, help students to prepare for a business career.

1 Sophomore Colleen O'Neal concentrates on a typing assignment. 2 Separating carbons in the data processing room is Jocelyn Tetrault. 3 Senior Elaine Scott runs report card verification lists on the counting machines. 4 Business student Mary Hartwell perfects her skill on the printing calculator.

Theology covers diverse topics

The four-year theology program begins with a study of man, religious and instinctual, in freshman year, continues with moral problems and an exploration of faith, community, and Church, and concludes with Christian philosophy, psychology and sociology in senior year. Classes this year integrated boys and girls.

The department plans electives for seniors next year.

Gridsters close dismal season; Thanksgiving victory stirs hope

The Panthers ended a season of frustration with a glimmer of hope for the future by beating Westfield 41-15 on Thanksgiving Day.

The triumph, which closed out their overall season record at 2-6-1, provided encouragement for an optimistic future.

This year's team, a spirited yet luckless one, endured injuries and heartbreaks throughout the season.

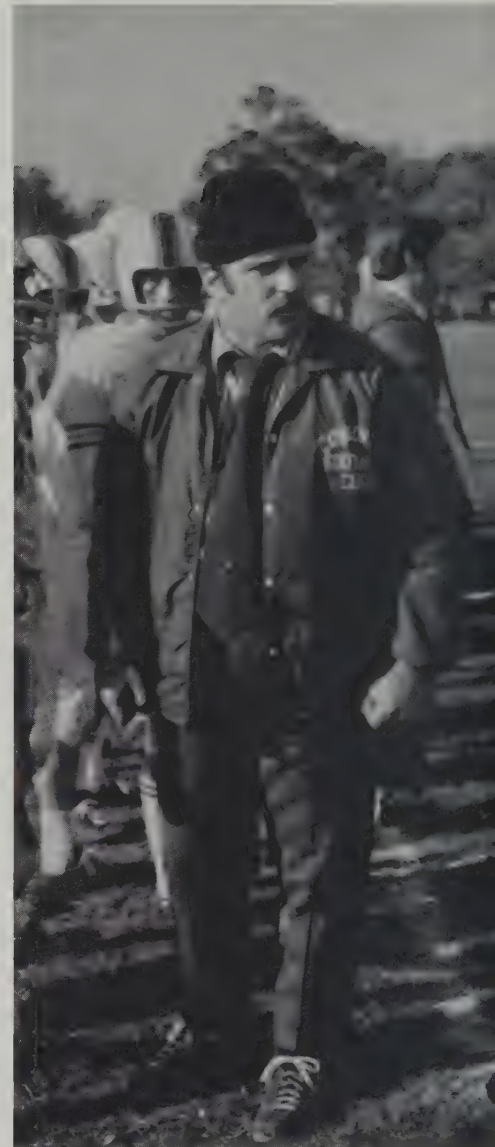

However, the team was comparably young, and valuable experience was gained by the rookies.

With hopes aimed at a W.Mass. berth, the footmen scored a resounding victory over Enfield. But injuries thwarted the early season team efforts, as both co-captains Butch Frieze and Tom Goodman, along with Brian Sullivan, were sidelined. Hopes dwindled as the Panthers concluded the first round with a 1-3 record. The tie against Amherst College Freshmen revived their spirits, only to be set back again by Commerce. Coach Kenworthy's boys proved that they were not dead with a powerful triumph over Tech. Spirit ran high when Cathedral met Classical in a do-or-die game. Down 1-0, Cathedral fought back for an amazing 2-1 victory. It was Tom Goodman's clutch penalty kick and Dave Brzezowski's goal with thirty-four seconds remaining, that nailed down the victory. Hopes for a W.Mass. berth were boosted when the team entered playoffs with Commerce and Tech. But the strain of three games in four days took its toll. The W.Mass. spot slipped out of the Panthers' grasp as they suffered defeat at the hands of Tech. Post-season honors went to Tom Goodman, who placed on the All - W. Mass. team. Forward slots on the All - Interschool team went to Butch Frieze and Tom Goodman.

The CHS Cross-country team after another successful season competed in the state finals at Franklin Park, Boston.

Seniors Bob Pandoli, Bill Dillon and Junior Rich Bourie helped spark the Harriers to a fourth place tie with Catholic Memorial

The Harriers ended their regular season extending a 4-year streak to 46 wins. By defeating Longmeadow in the final meet, they won the Southern Division Championship for the fourth year in a row. Through graduation the team will lose Bob Pandoli and co-captains Frank Pokigo and Bill Dillon, but a strong nucleus remains.

1 Junior Rich Bourie receives trophy after finishing second in the Western Mass competition. 2 With tension mounting, the Harriers await the starter's gun. 3 Prior to the meet, Bill Dillon and teammates warm up. 4 During free time Bob McDowell chats with Mary Ellen McCarthy. 5 The anguish of a grueling season is caught on the face of Rick Bourie in a moment of reflection.

As defending Western Mass champs, Cathedral returned to Interschool competition with many veterans from last year and a strong bid to defend the title.

The Panthers started with a big game against Holyoke, but were badly beaten 78-60.

Throughout the season they had their ups and downs, beating Chicopee Comp and Holyoke Catholic, but losing heartbreakers to Chicopee and Holy Name of Worcester.

The cagers trounced Trade three times, but dropped two important contests to Tech.

They won their final game with Classical, forcing a playoff for Western Mass, and finished with a 12-8 record.

Panthers come home thinking they won it

(reprinted from Springfield Daily News)
Defending WMass Class L champion Cathedral

ran out of miracles Monday night. For many, the end was hard to believe. "I'm going home thinking we won," said Panther coach Dan Balicki. But it was Holyoke, top seeded, which advanced to semifinal action against Drury Thursday night at the Pittsfield Boys' Club.

Senior forward Mike Dean brought Holyoke a 65-63 win, reversing the expected chain of events in the final seconds. With four seconds to play Cathedral seemed on the verge of climaxing a pulsating comeback as co-captain Bill Moge stood at center court looking for backcourt mate Mike Julian on a throw-in.

But the play never materialized, and, pressed, Moge tried a lob into the backcourt for Jim Whalen — but Dean tipped it, gravved it, and raced for the basket, laying in the winning points with two seconds left. Though Dean's steal was a brilliant defensive move, many fans felt that he was guilty of traveling. During an ensuing timeout, Balicki and the Cathedral players protested futilely.

With two seconds left, Cathedral attempted a desperation full-court pass, but Holyoke's Bob Tully grabbed it to end the game.

It seemed that Cathedral, which had beaten Hoosac in overtime a week before to reach the quarterfinals — then withstood three days of uncertainty involving player ineligibility — could pull out another one.

But Holyoke avenged an 81-67 quarterfinal loss to the Panthers last year, winning its 14th straight. Cathedral, ending a five-game win streak, finished 12-9.

Cathedral hockey has always meant hard-nosed, spirited games which spices the long winter with excitement. With skaters such as Tom Tabb, Butch Friese, Bill Crum, Pat Moriarty, and Dave McGlynn, each game produces its own variety of close-checking and perfect play execution. Despite early season doldrums the pucksters rebounded into the midst of a thick Berry Division race.

Coach Guy Lamarche stated that in the stretch, pre-season conditioning separated the contender from the champion. As the season came to a close the Panthers eyed just one laurel, the Western Mass. crown.

1 In a face off, Butch Freise battles for control of the puck. 2 Coach Guy Lamarche shouts encouragement to his team. 3 Defenseman Dan O'Malley remains behind to help defend the Panther goal.

Co-captain Butch Friese, adding a blend of exceptional stick-handling and valuable experience to the team, helped in fusing a young inexperienced group into a unified corps. Pivotman on a solid checking line, Butch paced his line drawing the highest performance out of his wingers Kevin O'Connor and Jeff Martini. From his penalty-killing to leading dashes, Friese's ability will be sorely missed by the remainder of the team when he graduates.

Centering the highest scoring Panther line is Tom Tabb whose coordination of precise skating and pinpoint passing led explosive forwards Pat Moriarty and Jim Martin to a banner season. Right winger Pat Moriarty compliments Tabb with his forechecking and completes one of the most dynamic scoring duos in the Berry Division. In addition to their goals, Pat, Tom, and Jim have supplied an immeasurable amount of enthusiasm to the team spirit.

By completing an undefeated season, Cathedral girl gymnasts, coached by Mr. Leo Leger, gained the league championship.

The team placed third in the Western Mass. meet in which Cindy Scuderi took all-around honors with a total of 29.43.

Shari Bordeau finished third.

Though senior Shirley LeClerc was sidelined at the end of the season because of an injury, she played a major role in gaining the league crown.

In their third season of competition,
Mr. Bud Ostrander's boy gymnasts finished second in the Western Mass. High School Conference, losing only once to South Hadley.
In the other meet with South Hadley, Cathedral's score of 107.90 was the highest ever achieved by a boys' team in Western Mass.

Key man Andy Lynch
qualified for state individual championship competition.

After going undefeated against all Western Mass rivals in pre-tournament play the C.H.S. wrestlers rolled onward to capture the Western Mass title. Cathedral amassed 91 points, ending Tech's six-year reign as Champs. In regular season play, the grapplers set three new individual school records. MVP Mike Robinson finished with a record of 15-1. John Shea pinned an opponent in a quick 18 seconds, and co-captain Ed Gallagher compiled ten pins for the year. Also in seasonal play the matmen broke Tech's 11-year undefeated record against Western Mass teams.

Skiers demonstrate improved form

The CHS ski team enjoyed their most productive season this year, finishing with their best record.

Led by co-captains Gary Goltz and Kevin Kavanagh, the skiers were set back in their first two meets against Westfield and Westside.

Hard work and practice every weekend at Blanford Ski Area proved rewarding as they went on to capture their next five meets, Slalom races were held at Mt. Tom, in which eight members from each team competed.

Decisions were gained by adding the four best times of the members of each team, and comparing them, with the lowest time winning.

Helping the skiers cut seconds off their time were faculty adviser Fr. Matthew O'Connor and Coach Lucier. The season culminated with Western Mass championship held at Cummington where the eight best skiers from each team competed for titles.

The CHS trackmen completed an 11-0 season record by winning the city championship for the eleventh year in a row, placing fifth in Western Mass and winning the West Side Invitational. In the city championship, the team scored a record 105 points to capture the crown. Bill Dillon won the two-mile run in a new city and school record of 10:05, breaking the old record by 21 seconds. Ed Carey captured a double by winning both the high and low hurdles. In Western Mass competition Bill Dillon captured second place and Rick Bourie third in the two-mile run. Also placing in Western Mass were Ed Carey, third in low hurdles, and Ken Demers, fourth in the triple jump. All of these competitors participated in the state meet. The trackmen convincingly clinched the West Side Invitational meet, easily outscoring its closest rival, West Side, by 94-40. In the final meet of the regular season, a tri-meet with Minnechaug and Amherst, Ed Carey broke the school record in the 180-yard low hurdles by .1 second with a time of 0:20.9.

Sophisticated frosh revert to nursery rhymes

The senior class subjected the bumbling frosh to hilarious escapades during the Frosh Day activities in the auditorium. Themes and skits were chosen by the senior homerooms. They included fairy tales, Tarzan and Jane, marching ants, a beauty contest and rubber duckies. Frosh homerooms 250 and 252 were chosen as the best performers and were ordered to clean the senior homerooms 354 and 359. Overall, an atmosphere of fun and frolic prevailed.

Sounds of the Sixties

The decade of the 60's was a period of change, not only in world affairs but also in the world of music. This sense of variation was reflected in Minstrel '70. Songs ranged from old favorites to more contemporary sounds. Groups and specialty acts testified to the varied sounds of the sixties and helped make the minstrel a sellout.

1 In his first solo appearance, Frank Wren performs his rendition of "Rolling Stones," a song made popular by Bob Dylan. 2 Psychedelic jazz number, "Cold Seat," sets the pace for the 1970 Minstrel. 3 Giving the show a strong finale, Steve Rokowski, Pat Minney, Pete Skerritt, Maureen Lancaster, Mike Devine, and Mary Pat Burt, compose the vocal portion of the Aquarius group. 4 With a carefree smile to match the mood of the song, Bob Hopkins sings the award-winning "Raindrops Keep Falling on my Head."

Musicals amuse viewers

During the spring of 1970, a group of Cathedral students decided to perform "The Pajama Game."

The plot revolves around Babe Williams, played by Maureen Lancaster, and Sid Sorokin portrayed by Justin Nealon.

Supporting characters included Mary Pat Burt, as Gladys, the boss's secretary, and Chuck Berube playing opposite her as Hines, a time-study man. Mike Devine filled the role of Prez, the union head. Rosemary Rogers portrayed a company secretary, and members of the chorale completed the cast.

Recapturing the spirit of the Broadway hit, "Bye Bye Birdie," Cathedral students regressed to teenage mannerisms of the early 60's. Carol Hahn and Chuck Berube recreated the leading roles of Rosie Alvarez and Albert Peterson. Conrad Birdie, the cause of all the mania, was played by Mike Devine. The MacAfee family consisted of Cathy Donohue as Kim, and Justin Nealon and Maureen Lancaster as her parents. The Chorale supported the plot with minor roles.

Performers arouse spirit of team, fans

Band members, drill team, and cheerleaders played a vital role in athletics at Cathedral.

They spent the summer preparing for the approaching season and were ready for action in the fall.

For the Thanksgiving game they performed a special half-time routing which consisted of a flag formed by the drill team, within an outline of the U.S. formed by the band.

Sr. Beverly Rochford, physical education teacher, evolved the drill in cooperation with Mr. Dante Pilegi, band director.

The chorale under the direction of Mrs. E. Janet Marsden, new member of the music department, participated in a concert at Christmas and in the musical Bye, Bye Birdie. Music at graduation is traditionally provided by the band and chorale.

Seniors enact 'Otello'

The Cathedral Opera Company presented "Otello" as the annual Senior performance. Michelle O'Malley, portraying Desdemona, and Warren Savage as Otello headed the cast. Fr. Richard Riendeau, assisted by Sr. Frances Cooke, directed the group's presentation. Rehearsals for the opera began months before the actual staging. The cast reviewed the plot in English in order to portray appropriate facial expressions. Afterwards, the performers spent hours listening to the Italian lyrics to perfect synchronization of their lip movements. The players also had the opportunity to see a professional production of the opera.

The Cathedral Chronicle continued to inform the student body in its usual award-winning style. Sr. Patricia Feeley and Sr. Imelda Maria, advisers, have trained the staff through journalism classes to edit the newspaper.

Chronicle's fine workmanship is demonstrated through their many awards, including first place in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, and All-American in National Scholastic Press Association. Occasionally the 40 member staff issues a literary supplement, which includes poetry and art work submitted by Cathedral students.

Pantherpix 1971 expands to include all classes

The year 1971 marked a change in the planning of Cathedral's yearbook. Pantherpix began in 1962 as a small memory book, exclusively for seniors. Its originator, Sister Rose Murray, is honored in the pages of Pantherpix '71. From these small beginnings, it grew to a somewhat larger book, yet still in paperback form. In 1968 the first hard covered edition of Pantherpix was issued. Now the yearbook has grown to include the members and activities of all four classes at Cathedral. The expansion of the CHS yearbook brought new challenges to the staff. With many attempts at raising funds to cover expenses, the staff has seemingly started a new era in Pantherpix production.

The process of education is a continuing one
where man strives to understand himself —
his shortcomings and failures,

But then
The times
when joy overtook sorrow, indecision, and frustration, and outdistanced them to the finish line
made the goal worth the while.

i was one
all alone
solitary seeking someone
to make me fully human.

warmth
in a smile
in a look.

touch
awareness of life
near me —
all about me.

feel life
a soul finds
fragile expression
in the depth of eyes.

you see in to my soul
with the power to touch the world . . .
you touch me
and feel the slightest hint of life and you give it to the Son to make it shine.

Kristine Kasmer
Lori Panciera

Life
full
someone listens
comforts
or smiles and knows
what you feel
how it hurts
or when you're happy.

Together
you have contentment
joy
and happiness.

Timeless friendship
extends onward.
Without it life is hell,
for isolation
is the curse
of the damned.

Life
empty
no one to talk to or listen.

Alone
you have sadness,
despair,
frustration.

People embody
the binding power of life.
To release this force
is to invade
the pain of loneliness.

Peggy Mahoney
Susan Poirier

My, my
He is successful
I'm glad to know
Keep smiling
Love,
Larry

The child

holds much potential
yet we forget
about the flower.

Instead we force
what we know
is not necessary:

" $E = mc^2$ "

"time to go to the ladies' room"
and unlike the flower
the child gets not a chance to experience and grow
and it will never be firm
and real
and beautiful.

But perhaps

it is just winter

The snow covers

and the flowers do not grow.

But the sun will shine,

spring will come

and flowers will grow.

Potential becomes life

and the child

will be

and beautiful.

Patti,
the girl who made English + History a lot more fun than they really
were. GOOD LUCK Always.

To Patti
a really great kid, good luck
next year.
Patty Strong

Patty,
you're a real great kid,
and fun to have in English class - (I always wanted to learn how to tie a tie). Hope to see you next year. Mike

Hi Pat 7/14/80
Nancy Strong
Patty a really great kid who doesn't shut up about it. Hope to see you next year. Good luck

To a Great Kid
 & 1 of the best friends in the world

(when I first almost wrote that I forgot to say how much I appreciate the way you've put up with all my moods, heartaches + everything other else)

Merci beaucoup à bonne amie à jamais (Thanks to a good friend forever)

Patti,
 You're a real great kid. Always remember our fun
 English class
 Love

Patti,
 Don't ever forget
 all the great times
 we've had in theology
 stay the same!
 Joanne

Patty
 you're a really great kid + don't let anyone tell you
 different. Kathy McK.

Patty a great kid
 and a fantastic volleyball player who helped make our team come in 3rd (which isn't that bad)
 see ya next year. Maria 7/11
